

Spanish Summer Reading List for Incoming 7th and 8th graders

Please check out these websites so you can keep up with your Spanish during the summer. You will find that these are fun and interesting. Play games, read articles according to your likes and tastes. Practice by reading children's books found at your local library and online as well as reading simple sentences following the rules we have learned throughout the year. Simple picture books in Spanish work as well. Listen to music in music and watch movies in Spanish (English subtitles). Practice your prayers too!

Incoming 6th graders:

Please study and work on Padre Nuestro, you have been given a copy of the prayer which is also attached for your convenience, this may also be found on YouTube to practice listening. Reciting this prayer will be one of your first assessments once the year has started, so become familiar with it. Get a headstart by also checking out the following websites:
